Dial-A-Law: www.dialalaw.org

Dial-A-Law is a library of free legal information prepared by lawyers. The program is funded by the Law Foundation of BC and operated by the Canadian Bar Association, BC Branch.

Lawyer Referral Service

It's a public service offered by the BC Branch of the Canadian Bar Association, the same organization that operates Dial-A-Law. Call 604.687.3221 in the Lower Mainland or 1.800.663.1919 toll-free elsewhere in British Columbia. Explain briefly the type of problem, and the service will give you the name of a lawyer. Phone the lawyer and make an appointment. Tell the lawyer that Lawyer Referral Service sent you. The lawyer will give you up to a 30-minute appointment for $25. At the appointment, the lawyer will tell you if you have a legal problem. Then, if you and the lawyer agree, you can hire that lawyer at their normal rate.

But you don't have to use that lawyer. You may decide you don't have a legal problem and don't need a lawyer. Or you may decide to shop around and find another lawyer.

Legal Services Society (LSS): www.legalaid.bc.ca

Legal Aid: www.legalaid.bc.ca/legal_aid/

The Legal Services Society will pay for a lawyer to represent you if: your legal problem is covered by our legal aid rules, you meet the financial guidelines, and you have no other way of getting legal help. Legal problems that may be covered by legal aid include criminal charges, mental health and prison issues, serious family problems, child protection matters, and immigration problems. To find a legal aid location near you, see the LSS website at www.legalaid.bc.ca and under “Legal aid,” click “Legal aid offices”. Or you can call the LSS province-wide Call Centre at 604.408.2172 (Greater Vancouver) or 1.866.577.2525 (call no charge, elsewhere in BC).
